“ Greetings Irmgard,

Susie and I read the news of Earl's passing with surprise and sorrow. We share our condolences with you, your children and your extended family. We pray that you will experience strength and peace as you prepare for the funeral. This is a serious and solemn moment for you. Many details need to be worked out but we believe that you have a great team around you and that you are not alone.

Yes, the years have passed so quickly but the memories have not faded.

I remember Earl as a man who was generous and integral in business. Many people commented how fast he could prepare an order for a customer in the butcher shop. I remember how he spoke so graciously of you and the adjustments that you had to make when you were first married. Your smile, gentleness, wisdom and willingness to pitch in where ever you were needed contributed greatly to the success and well being of the farm and butcher shop.

I remember the joy and excitement that he felt when he talked about his children.

I remember how he respected and honored his mother and his father.

I remember the tug a war tournaments and his subtle teasing because we could never out pull North East Hope.

I remember oh ...there is so much..... yes, he was a leader in his home and his community. May we follow in his example.

May God's grace and His comfort be with you. May the Lord truly be your Shepherd as you pass through this valley of sorrow and sadness. He shall bring you through the valley and shall lead you beside the still waters and provide green pastures for you. Yes, He has promised to restore the sorrow of your soul. He has also promise to prepare a table for you and a dwelling place with Him that you shall eternally share together. Ps. 23

Our prayers accompany you.

Sincerely

David and Susie Shantz

“ Wishing peace to our neighbours in this time of loss. We appreciated the interest Earl took in what was going on at our farm - he had genuine love of the neighbourhood and his township, his roots. Admirable qualities!

Our deepest sympathies,
