“ I will remember singing with Gloria at church. I loved listening to her beautiful voice. She shared her family history book and said, although it was not pretty, it had very important information about her forever family. I will miss your beautiful smile and kindness toward me.

“ I remember Gloria when I was a young mother. She was a great example to me in the church. She was my visiting teaching companion and she had such a strong testimony. I looked to her example often. I also remember her love of music and beautiful singing voice. She will be missed. Until we meet again.
