“ I was fortunate to spend time with Terry, both here and in Florida. It started with my attempt to play golf. He regularly would take me out. Even though he was a good golfer and was invited to play with others, he patiently put up with me. While he rarely offered advice, he was always ready with a quip. A big part of our getting together was a spirited discussion on a wide range of topics, politics, business, Blue Jays and more. Terry’s ability to work with a wide range of individuals was one I admired.
Thank you Terry for being such a great friend.
